

IN NORTH TOPEKA

Halloween Season Is Here and
Youngsters Get Busy.Residents of Garfield Place
Want Road Repaired.

At the beginning of the week, the police department issued its annual ultimatum calculated to throw big chunks of fear in the hearts of the Halloween gangs. They explained in detail the fate that awaited any youngster who dared break the rules laid down. Then they sat back and waited for developments.

If they intended to wait until Halloween, however, they are doomed to disappointment. Wednesday night, youngsters on the North side decided that the Halloween season was here and started out on the war path. Apparently several divisions were out. They confined their efforts mainly to Central avenue, however.

All along the street, windows bear evidence of the handiwork of North Topeka's young men. One party evidently carried a bucket of paint and several brushes and today a number of busy housewives are busier than ever in time to give them a good start. The race was close, however, until Dodson slipped in making a sharp turn around the Austin-Snedeker building. Hanson and Officer

Officers came on the youngsters who were breaking the sewer pipe and throwing the sharp edged pieces into the street. The policemen crept around the "Flat Iron" building on the corner of Gordon and North Kansas avenues but were sighted by the marauders in time to give them a good start. The race was close, however, until Dodson slipped in making a sharp turn around the Austin-Snedeker building. Hanson and Officer

Officers say they have the names of members of gangs who were out Wednesday evening and promise to make calls at several residences today.

Want Road Repaired.
A formal complaint will be made today by residents of Garfield addition to township trustee, Albert Bartlett, relative to the condition of a strip of the road on Burges street which connects the Grantville and Kansas avenue roads. "A portion of the highway, which is just outside the city limits, has been allowed to deteriorate until holes extend the width of the road. The stretch contains several hills that make it a bad place to travel when the conditions are best. The condition of the road at present makes travel over it almost impossible.

The climax of the sentiment against allowing the road to remain in its present condition was reached Wednesday night when a wagon owned by J. Pile was broken, his two horses injured and he and a neighbor, Mr. Knight, narrowly escaped serious injury. While the two men were bringing home a load of ties, the wagon pitched into one of the holes in the highway, threw the men to the ground, piled the wood on the front end of the wagon and the horses, mashing the former, and badly skinning the legs of the latter.

Clever Entertainment at Shorey.
One of the cleverest entertainments planned in some time will be held at the Shorey school house Friday evening when the residents of Shorey will hold a shadow social.

As the guests enter the building they will be met by a line of ghosts who will tax them one cent for each foot of their height. They will then be sent to the main floor of the building and the basement where candy, cider, doughnuts, pumpkin pie and various other booths will be presided over by members of the school. Other features will be the fortune telling witch and a cash pond.

Later in the evening the guests will meet in the assembly room where shadows of the women present will be auctioned off. Every purchaser of a shadow will eat lunch with the original. In all other respects the party will resemble a box social.

Funds raised by the social will be applied to the piano fund and to provide for immediate needs of the school.

Notes and Personal.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Rude of Shorey will leave today on an extended western trip. They will spend several days in Denver, two days in Salt Lake City and a few days at other large western cities. Several weeks will be spent in Seattle, Wash., where they will be guests at the home of Mrs. Rude's brother. They also will visit both California fairs and expect to be gone six weeks.

O. L. Bentley of 910 North Harrison street has returned to his home after spending several months in the western part of the state.

Tracy Doan has returned to his home, 1228 North Quincy street after spending a week in Kansas City on business.

Fred Buchner of 925 North Kansas avenue has disposed of his Ford and purchased a Dodge touring car.

F. P. Elmore, of the Shawnee State bank, was called to Nortonville Wednesday night to be with his brother, J. L. Elmore, who was seriously injured when a tree which he was chopping down fell on him.

Probably the largest radish ever grown in the state is on exhibition at the Citizen's State bank. The vegetable which was raised by J. W. Dillon, of Menoken, weighs a little more than five pounds and is larger than three dozen average radishes.

The Kaw river has been falling rapidly in the last few days and more than half the stream for several hundred yards west of the Melan bridge is taken up by a huge sand bar.

Bert Ellis of the Campbell drug store, and William Colvin, of the Shawnee State bank, have returned from a duck hunting trip to Willard. The two men floated down the river in a canoe but failed to sight many wild fowl. They brought back several ducks and a half dozen squirrels.

Several new candidates will be initiated tonight at a meeting of Wampano lodge No. 93 of the Red Men, at their hall, 831 North Kansas avenue.

Mrs. C. T. Robinson, of 120 East Laurent street, is ill at her home.

A Halloween box social will be given

Saturday evening by the members of the Fairview Sunday school. An excellent program is being prepared, it is said, and a large attendance is expected.

Charles Cless and Mel Macelwane of Roseville, were in North Topeka Wednesday on business.

W. H. Maus and Ike Hayes, of Silver Lake, were in North Topeka Wednesday afternoon on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas and their young son will return today to their home in Ray, N. M., after spending several months in North Topeka visiting Mr. Thomas' parents.

Mr. Thomas is a mining engineer.

A. M. Petro, druggist—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Orr, of Silver Lake, and Mrs. C. O. Shultice, of Kiro, were in North Topeka Wednesday afternoon.

An original feature of the Halloween party to be held at the Lyman school house Friday night is the introduction of a "regular" seers, it is said. Rumor has it that she will arrive in a motor car on Union Pacific train No. 23.

OAKLAND NOTES.
(Items for this department may be phoned to 3915 or State Journal office.)

The regular monthly business and social meeting of the Oakland Veterans club will be held next Monday night, November 1, with Comrade and Mrs. Chas. P. McCarty, 121 Michigan avenue, instead of Comrade and Mrs. Ralston, as was formerly the case.

Mrs. W. S. Pate has returned to her home in Walnut, Kan., from Kansas City, where she underwent an operation several weeks ago. Prof. Pate, who has also been ill at his home, is able to return to his school work.

Mrs. Allen Higbee and children, Austin, Wilma and Winona, of 15 Michigan avenue, left Tuesday for Fairbury, Ill., and points in Indiana, where they will spend a few weeks visiting relatives and friends. They will return to Oakland for a few days before leaving for San Bernardino, Cal., where they will join Mr. Higbee in a permanent home. Mr. Higbee left for the west several weeks ago.

An all day meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Oakland Presbyterian church was held today with Mrs. Roy Nelson in Winfield avenue. Work for the annual bazaar to be held in December was done.

Mrs. Chas. Ling and children, Leatha and Cha Taylor, and Mrs. John Taylor are spending a few days this week with relatives and friends in Holton.

Comrade Luther Sperry, of the Old Soldiers' home in Leavenworth, is spending a few days this week at the home of J. Nichols and with other friends here.

The Busy Bee club will give a Halloween party next Monday night for the members and their families at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Meinhart, 909 Madison street.

Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. C. F. Miller of Tecumseh, Mrs. O. M. Keats and Miss Mabel Keats motored to Delia, Kan., last Saturday, where they spent the day with Mrs. Keats' cousin, Mr. John Miller, and family.

Next Sunday morning, at the Oakland M. E. church, the people of Oakland will have an opportunity to hear Mr. W. E. Doughty, team leader and educational secretary of the Laymen's Educational movement. Mr. Doughty is an unusual speaker. Oakland people of all denominations are welcome to the meeting.

Mrs. Reese Van Sant will entertain the members of the Frisella club Friday afternoon at her home in Belmont street.

The fifth annual ball will be given by Division No. 93 Engineers' Vets next Wednesday evening, November 3, in Kellam hall. A large number of out of town people are expected here for the occasion.

A large number of Santa Fe employees attended the lecture given Monday night at the R. R. Y. M. C. A. by Col. James Taylor of Washington, D. C. of the bureau of explosives. The lecture was illustrated with stereoscopic pictures giving many interesting facts about explosives.

Rev. A. E. Peterson had charge of the noon hour meeting today in the Santa Fe machine shops.

The personal workers' class under the direction of T. E. Prout held their regular weekly meeting Wednesday night at the association building. The class which is free is open to both men and women.

Miss Julia Caddock will return Friday to her home in New Mexico after a few weeks' visit with relatives and friends here.

All members of Division No. 205, B. of L. P. and E., are requested to attend the meeting next Sunday at the home of Roy Hoover, 506 East Ninth street, at which time important business will be transacted.

R. F. Demott has returned to Herington, after a short business trip here.

Miss Clara Hood will return tonight to her home in Knoxville, Tenn., after a few weeks' visit with relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Verlin have returned to their home in Denver, Colo., after a short visit with relatives and friends in Topeka and Kansas City.

Mr. Hempstead, wife of Engineer C. E. Hempstead, who underwent an operation at Stormont hospital last week, is improving nicely at the hospital.

Alaska in 1914 produced $15,744,259 in gold.

SEE THE WALL
Before You Buy a Piano—Not After
Write If You Cannot Call
822 KANSAS AVE. F. P. WHITMORE
MANAGER

EAST SIDE NOTES.

(Items for this department may be phoned to 3915 or State Journal office.)

The members of the Loyal Workers' class of the East Side M. E. church, will have a stock and wine roast Friday night at the home of Mr. George Swartz, 1429 Redden avenue.

The members of the Mizpah society, of the Third Presbyterian church, were delightfully entertained at a Halloween party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. H. Flintham in Klein street. The house was beautifully decorated in autumn leaves, flowers and Halloween favors.

The centerpiece for the dining room table was a doll witch stirring fortunes in a black pot. Each novelty for three days at the end of the week. Another feature act will be Paul Kleist and company in "The Land of Uruks." Adelaide Bohn, by uses her various accomplishments in a most telling way, so they say, and has been seen very well and it is also hinted that she is good to look upon. Sigbee's acrobatic act and the News will complete what promises to be an exceptionally good bill.

At the Novelty.
Joe Jenny and his famous Empire Comedy Four is known practically the world over, having made eleven trips to Europe and played in all the principal countries of the continent and in the countries where the English language is not spoken. This act, which ranks as the highest salaried quartette in vaudeville, will be one of the feature acts at the Novelty for three days at the end of the week. Another feature act will be Paul Kleist and company in "The Land of Uruks." Adelaide Bohn, by uses her various accomplishments in a most telling way, so they say, and has been seen very well and it is also hinted that she is good to look upon. Sigbee's acrobatic act and the News will complete what promises to be an exceptionally good bill.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

by this most popular of all minstrel comedians. The company is a large one and contains many of the brightest stars of minstrelsy.

At the Iris.
An opium pipe over two hundred years old and that had been handed down from father to son for generations is used by capturing Blanche Sweet, the cleverest star, who will appear at the Iris tonight for the last time, in the production of "The Secret Sin," a thrilling drama by the noted dramatist, Margaret Turnbull.

In the advertising columns the Iris frankly corrects a misrepresentation regarding Censor Ross' condemnation of "Geraldine Farrar in Carmen."

At the Novelty.
Joe Jenny and his famous Empire Comedy Four is known practically the world over, having made eleven trips to Europe and played in all the principal countries of the continent and in the countries where the English language is not spoken. This act, which ranks as the highest salaried quartette in vaudeville, will be one of the feature acts at the Novelty for three days at the end of the week. Another feature act will be Paul Kleist and company in "The Land of Uruks." Adelaide Bohn, by uses her various accomplishments in a most telling way, so they say, and has been seen very well and it is also hinted that she is good to look upon. Sigbee's acrobatic act and the News will complete what promises to be an exceptionally good bill.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys" recently, the director and several of the Essanay players spent the great part of an hour trying to coax a pig into holding a nursing bottle in its mouth. This five act comedy, adapted from the speaking stage production by Charles Hoyt, is to be shown here at the Hip theater today and tomorrow, with John Slavin and William Bosen in the leading parts. The vaudeville part of the program also changes today.

At the Hip.
In taking scenes for "A Bunch of Keys"